Conclusions

The level of satisfaction of the fair this year – as regards the venue and service offered by the programme - was in high levels as last year, from both companies and candidates. Companies rated the profile of candidates as excellent or very good (87.5%) and candidates agreed that the Career Fair met their expectations (81%).

As the Greek financial crisis now drags into its fifth year, data show that less companies claim that the financial crisis has decreased the rate of job openings (53% in 2012, 34% in 2013). In particular, companies attending the fair this year had more specific job openings at the time of the fair than last year (61% in 2012, 69% in 2013). Moreover, more companies agreed that the profile of the candidates would fit potential job openings in the near future (67% in 2012, 69% in 2013).

At the time of writing this report (end-June), 15% of participating companies have hired directly from the fair. Furthermore, 31% of the companies have proceeded to a 2nd round of interviews with the participating candidates while evidence suggests that this will increase significantly in the next 1-2 months.
